

Letter to President Trump from Public Health Experts and Professionals on ACA Repeal

Dear President Trump,

This week your administration will file a brief in California v. Texas in support of overturning the Affordable Care Act (ACA). The Department of Justice is aiding this lawsuit – which several conservative legal scholars, who support ACA repeal, believe is baseless – at your personal direction. We write as public health experts and professionals who are gravely concerned about the effects this lawsuit would have, if successful, during the course of the COVID-19 pandemic, still on the rise in many states across the US, making prospects for control of the pandemic unlikely in the short-term.

An estimated 20 million people would lose coverage if the ACA is repealed by legislation or overturned by court order. However, in the last few months, millions more Americans have lost their jobs and employer coverage, and many of these people are now eligible for ACA coverage and can rely on this critical safety net.

This health coverage is even more vital during a pandemic. To slow spread of the virus, it is essential that people who may have been exposed to SARS-CoV2 get tested promptly, self-isolate and seek medical attention if symptoms worsen. If individuals who are uninsured believe that they will incur significant financial costs by engaging with their health care professionals, they may delay or forgo testing for the virus for themselves and their families, as well as needed medical care if they get seriously ill. It doesn't matter if the federal government covers the costs of testing—many news reports have been widely circulated about the unexpected bills uninsured individuals have received for medical care associated with COVID-19. Thus, being uninsured is a disincentive to seek testing and care, working against our collective efforts to combat this pandemic.

Many people who develop COVID-19 require intensive and long-term medical care. This is true for the most serious cases in the elderly and those with underlying medical conditions, who may suffer lung scarring, heart damage, and neurological and mental health effects, even after recovery from acute illness. However, those experiencing milder forms of the disease may also have protracted, major health consequences. All of these individuals, numbering in the hundreds of thousands now, will require expert medical care and those who are uninsured will again be dissuaded from seeking the care they need or facing financial ruin if they take the steps to ensure their long-term health and wellness. Being uninsured in this context may make the difference between life and death, not just in the short-term but for years as the lingering effects of SARS-CoV2 continue in our communities.

Front-line essential workers have been the heroes of the pandemic, putting their lives on the line to allow the basic necessities of life to continue for the rest of us. From nursing homes to supermarkets, from drug stores to online retail warehouses, these people have been working through the pandemic to ensure all Americans have access to vital services we require and they deserve our support now. The ACA has covered millions of people who would not otherwise have insurance; importantly, it has provided coverage to many essential workers who are not covered by their employer. If the Supreme Court effectively overturns the ACA with your assistance, imperiling the health insurance of the millions who have risked their lives for the rest of us during this pandemic, it will be a cruel thanks for their sacrifice.

You have stated that “We want to terminate health care under Obamacare.” This would strip health coverage from millions of people in the midst of a once-in-a-century pandemic, driving people away from the health care and public health systems that are key to containing SARS-CoV2. Should you succeed, it will mean that fewer people will get tested, more will spread the virus; those who get sick will have to choose between their health and financial ruin; and more people will die.

We the undersigned therefore respectfully request that you instruct the Department of Justice to reverse its position and defend the ACA in California v. Texas.

Sincerely,

Joshua M. Sharfstein, MD
